The "Highest Number Previously Paid For" (37 CFR 1.16(h)) is the highest number previously paid for by the filer, during the period of time covered by the application, for filing a claim or claims which are independent or which contain one or more dependent claims. This includes all money paid for filing a claim or claims which are independent or which contain one or more dependent claims, including attorney's fees, expenses, and costs, but does not include amounts paid for filing a claim or claims which are independent or which contain one or more dependent claims, if such amounts are recoverable under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.16(d) or 1.16(e). The "Highest Number Previously Paid For" (37 CFR 1.16(h)) is determined by the filer, based on the highest number previously paid for by the filer, during the period of time covered by the application, for filing a claim or claims which are independent or which contain one or more dependent claims, including attorney's fees, expenses, and costs, but does not include amounts paid for filing a claim or claims which are independent or which contain one or more dependent claims, if such amounts are recoverable under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.16(d) or 1.16(e).
